

SISTER OF THE SUN

Words by Tom Attea

I saw darkness everywhere
Until your love shined my way.
You showed how much you care
And I just want to say --

You are the sister of the sun.
When it was nighttime in my soul
Because my life had not begun,
And hopelessness took a sad toll,
You smiled on me just like the dawn,
And soon the darkness all was gone.

You are the sister of the sun.
Now, even on the kind of day
That would seem bright to anyone,
When you just smile your special way
I feel an unexpected thrill
That makes the day seem brighter still.

And now the darkness that I knew
Is like the distant past to me.
You came one night and set me free
When your warm love came shinin' through.

You are the sister of the sun.
When I see evening start to fall
And others think the day is done,
I just don't feel that way at all.
The world I'm in stays full of light,
Because your love shines, oh, so bright.
